PROJECTS

NeuroLens – Explainable Multimodal Alzheimer's Diagnosis System

- Developed an explainable AI prototype for Alzheimer's risk prediction by combining MRI analysis with clinical data. Implemented multimodal classification, preprocessing, class imbalance handling, and Grad-CAM visualizations, along with a web interface for MRI uploads and clinical inputs to provide interpretable risk predictions.

AI-Powered Pet Health Management System

- Developed a full-stack MERN pet health management application with secure authentication, pet profiles, and AI-powered veterinary consultation using the OpenAI API. Built a responsive React dashboard with real-time chat and integrated an AI-driven risk assessment system that categorizes health concerns by urgency and provides preliminary pet care guidance.

Full Stack Realtime Chat Application

- Developed a full-stack real-time chat platform using React, Node.js, Express, Socket.io, and MongoDB, enabling low-latency messaging and online/offline status. Built a responsive UI with Tailwind CSS, Zustand, and DaisyUI, secured with JWT authentication and profile management. Containerized the application with Docker for scalable and streamlined deployment.
